

Ethics in Victim Services

Exploring our responsibilities to others and to ourselves

Friday, May 18, 2012

9:00am — 4:00pm

Vermont Technical College

Red School House

Randolph, Vermont

Interpretation and other accommodation available upon request

Goal

To create a day of dialogue with challenge, introspection, self-reflection, assessment, safety, clarity and respect.

We will explore values, ethics and morals, including our responsibilities and limitations in relation to our work with victims of crime.

Audience

This training is designed for community-based advocates, state-based advocates, program directors, and those who provide direct services to victims of crime

The ethics training is FREE.
Morning coffee/tea and lunch will be provided.

Register Online

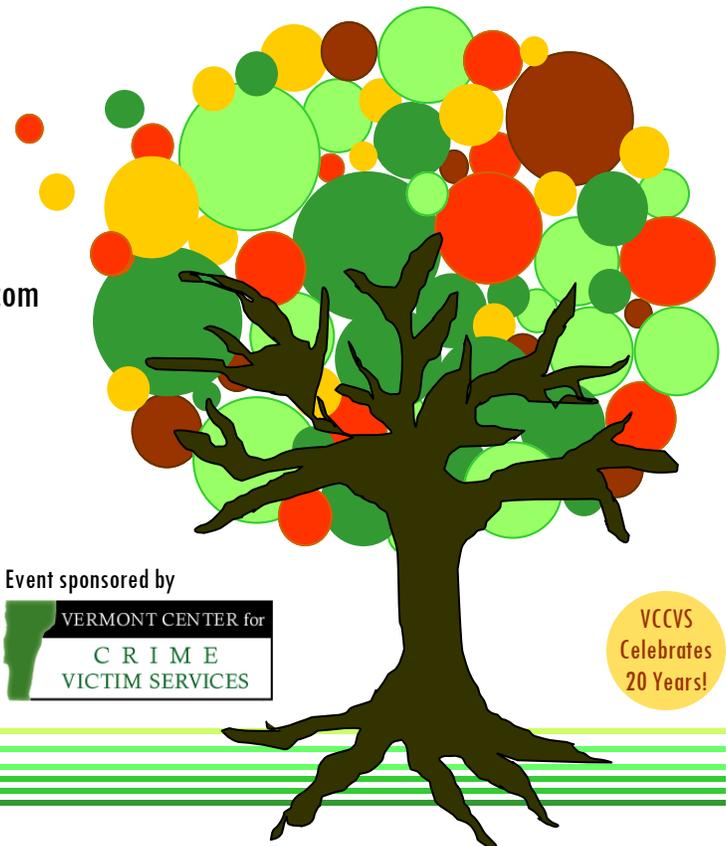

<http://ethicstrainingforadvocates.eventbrite.com>

Or Contact:

Andrea Van Liew
Andrea.vanliew@ccvs.state.vt.us
(802) 241-1250 x 113

Planning Committee

Vermont Center for Crime Victim Services
Vermont Attorney General's Office
WISE—Women's information Service
South Burlington Community Justice Center
Disability Rights Vermont
Lamoille County State's Attorney's Office
Vermont Network Against Domestic and Sexual Violence
HOPE Works (Formerly Women's Rape Crisis Center)

Event sponsored by

VCCVS
Celebrates
20 Years!